Orderly Exchange trading or the orderly settlement of Exchange trading are at risk in particular if the quotation of an underlying is suspended or if for other reasons, the EEX is not authorized to reference this underlying anymore. Furthermore, the Management Board of the Exchange suspends trading in a product if this is ordered by the Exchange Supervisory Authority or the Federal Financial Supervisory Authority.
- (2) The Management Board of the Exchange can revoke the admission of products to Spot and Derivatives trading on EEX if orderly Exchange trading or the orderly settlement of Exchange transactions do not appear to be ensured in the long run. In this case, the Management Board of the Exchange also revokes the admission of derivatives connected with the product concerned within the meaning of annex I section C numbers 4 to 10 of the guideline 2014/65/EU or suspends trading in these derivatives if this is required in order to achieve the targets of revoking admission in the underlying product. Furthermore, it revokes admission of a product to trading if this is ordered by the Exchange Supervisory Authority.

- (3) In case the orderly trading or settlement of a contract is not secured, the Management Board of the Exchange may determine cash settlement instead of physical fulfilment for contracts which have to be fulfilled physically.¹⁸
- (4) The Exchange Participants need to be immediately informed about withdrawals of the admission of products or the suspension of Exchange trading altogether or of trading in one product and the determination of a cash settlement for physical products. The Management Board of the Exchange publishes all measures according to paragraph 1 and paragraph 2 on the website of EEX forthwith and informs the Exchange Supervisory Authority and the Federal Financial Supervisory Authority thereof.
- (5) The Management Board of the Exchange informs the Exchange Supervisory Authority forthwith upon learning of the fact that trading in products was suspended at another market platform or that the admission of products which are also offered for trading at EEX was revoked.
- (6) When trading on the Spot or Derivatives Markets of the EEX is entirely or partly suspended for certain products, it is not possible to enter orders or quotes for the concerned products and for the duration of the suspension. Neither is it possible to close open positions resulting from derivatives trading for the concerned products and for the duration of the suspension. All the existing orders and quotes will be deleted. Reopening of trading in the suspended products begins – if applicable - with a pre trading period or an opening phase. In the case of a particular situation, the Management Board of the Exchange may issue regulations that deviate from the rules specified above.

¹⁸ As regards primary auctioning of allowances, Article 48 of the Auctioning Regulation shall remain unaffected.

3. Exchange Trading

3.1 General Terms for Exchange Trading

§ 43 Electronic Exchange

- (1) The EEX is a fully electronic exchange. It has electronic trading platforms for the conclusion of Spot and Derivatives transactions through order book trading and Trade Registration.
- (2) Orders are buy or sell orders of Exchange Participants on the Spot Markets of EEX in the trading types Continuous Trading and Auctions as well as on the Derivatives Markets. In auctions orders can also be referred to as bids. Quotes are limited buy and sell orders entered simultaneously. Further details are stipulated in the EEX Trading Conditions.
- (3) Exchange Participants transfer orders and quotes from their respective workstations to the EEX trading systems by means of electronic transmission. The Management Board is entitled to permit the usage of other methods of transfer; it will inform the Exchange Participants of this method by the most suitable means.
- (4) The Management Board is entitled to temporarily interrupt the access to the EEX trading systems for single or all products for one or all of the Exchange Participants should this be necessary for technical reasons. The Management Board makes the decision as to the revocation of the interruption. The Exchange Participants concerned must be informed of the interruption of the access to the EEX trading systems and the revocation of the same by suitable means.

§ 44 Pre-trade controls

The EEX trading systems carry out pre-trade controls to ensure orderly Exchange trading. The maximum limits for the pre-trade controls are determined as follows:

- (a) The Management Board of the Exchange specifies maximum limits for the transfer of messages (entry, amendment or deletion of orders) which an Exchange Participant can submit to the trading system within a certain period of time under consideration of its technical connection routes (interface and session) and announces these (max. message limits). Once the maximum limit has been reached, the transfer of further messages will be delayed or rejected for a specified time period.
- (b) The Management Board of the Exchange specifies maximum limits for the orders and quotes saved in the order book and announces these. The maximum limit refers to a maximum number of orders and quotes which a Participant can enter in the order book in one product under consideration of its technical connection routes (interface and session). Once a maximum limit has been reached by an Exchange Participant, incoming orders and quotes are rejected by the respective trading system of EEX until the number of orders or quotes saved in the order book for this product has fallen below a threshold value established by the Management Board of the Exchange. In as far as the entry of a mass quote leads to a maximum limit being reached, the maximum limit might be exceeded due to the nature of the system. In this case, only orders and quotes arriving after this will be rejected. The Exchange Participant can individually pre-set lower maximum limits.

- (c) The Management Board of the Exchange specifies price ranges for the individual contracts within which orders can be entered with a limit ("price collars"). An order or quote whose limit lies outside the specified price collar is rejected by the respective EEX trading system.
- (d) Exchange Participants must specify a maximum limit for the maximum order value of an order or quote for every Exchange Trader ("max order value"). An order or quote which exceeds the maximum order value is rejected by the respective EEX trading system.

Exchange Participants must specify a maximum limit for the number of contracts which an Exchange Trader can enter for a certain product per order or quote ("order volume"). An order or quote exceeding the maximum number of contracts is rejected by the respective EEX trading system.

§ 45 Exchange Price and Price Determination

- (1) Exchange prices are determined by execution of orders at the exchange. Exchange prices are determined transparently and non-discriminatorily by the trading systems of EEX according to the more detailed provisions of the following paragraphs.
- (2) Exchange prices must be determined properly and correspond with the actual market situation of the Exchange trading. The exchange has to take appropriate precautions to secure the proper determination of the exchange prices in the event of extensive price fluctuations in accordance with Sect. 24 para. 2a and 2b BörsG. Appropriate arrangements are in particular short-term changes in the market model, like the discontinuation of trading with a subsequent restart, including short-term volatility interruptions under consideration of static or dynamic price corridors or other suitable measures. Details are stipulated in the Trading Conditions or in implementing provisions. The Management Board of the Exchange may rapidly determine further appropriate measures, if there is a risk that the exchange prices are not determined properly or do not correspond with the actual market situation. It is, in particular, authorised to cancel, amend or correct transactions in exceptional cases.
- (3) In primary auctions of allowances at the spot market in accordance with the Auctioning Regulation as well as at the derivatives market pricing is carried out as uniform pricing in the auction by means that all successful bidders will pay the same auction clearing price after the end of the call phase.

The limit price of the order at which the sum of the volumes bid matches or exceeds the volume of allowances auctioned shall be the auction clearing price: The orders are sorted according to the height of the price limit and the quantities specified are added up. Where the price limit of several orders is the same, these orders will be sorted through a random selection according to an algorithm determined by EEX before the auction.

If the amount of bidding orders does not meet the offer of allowances a price determination does not take place during the respective auction. The same applies if the estimated auction price does not reflect the orderly secondary market value (in accordance with Article 7 (6) of the Auctioning Regulation) and the other cases as foreseen in Art. 9 of the Auctioning Regulation. Further details are stipulated in Sect. 39 of the Trading Conditions of EEX.

- (4) For secondary market auctions of allowances under Section 3.5, the provisions of paragraph 3 shall apply mutatis mutandis, with the exception of the last two sentences. Furthermore, prices are not determined for secondary market auctions of allowances if the indicative auction price is not within the maximum deviation from the mean value of the secondary market prices for allowances of EEX agreed with the member state or other contracting entity within a certain period before the auction.
- (5) Within the trading system T7 the opening price is determined during the opening auction (if applicable), as of a time to be determined by the Management Board of the Exchange, on the basis of both limited orders and market orders contained in the trading system and shall be the price at which the largest possible number of contracts of such orders may be executed (Principle of Maximizing Executions – Meistausführungsprinzip).

During continuous trading the exchange price is determined on the basis of the respective highest sell limit or lowest buy limit in the same order book or another order book (synthetic path) at which the orders are executed automatically by the trading system (price-time priority).

Further details are stipulated in Sect. 25 of the Trading Conditions of EEX.

- (6) Version valid until 1 October 2022, 5:59:59 in the morning:

Within the trading system Trayport® ETSSM the exchange price is determined during continuous trading on the basis of the sell or buy limit price in the order book at which the orders are executed by entering a corresponding countering order. Further details are stipulated in Sect. 34 of the Trading Conditions of EEX.

In auctions of EEX CEGH VTP Within-Day contracts, the exchange price is determined as uniform pricing by means that the auction price is the same for all successful participants. The auction price shall be the price at which the largest possible number of contracts of such orders within the trading system may be executed (Principle of Maximizing Executions – Meistausführungsprinzip). If several different limit prices on the buy and sell sides of the order book meet this principle for an auction, the order of the order book side (buy or sell) shall be decisive, which generates the smallest surplus of offered unexecuted trading volume. If this surplus is the same for both sides (buy/sell), the auction price is the price of the order whose difference to the last determined price of an exchange transaction for the EEX CEGH VTP Within-Day contract is smallest. If no price has yet been determined for the EEX CEGH VTP Within-Day contract for the respective gas trading day, the auction price shall be the price of the order whose difference to the most recent CEGH VTP EGSi reference price as calculated and published by EEX AG is the lowest.

Version valid as of 1 October 2022, 6:00 in the morning:

Within the trading system Trayport® ETSSM the exchange price is determined during continuous trading on the basis of the sell or buy limit price in the order book at which the orders are executed by entering a corresponding countering order. Further details are stipulated in Sect. 34 of the Trading Conditions of EEX.

- (7) The exchange prices and the volume and time at which the trades were closed out shall be announced to the Exchange Participants within the respective trading system immediately in real time.

§ 46 Order-Transaction-Ratio

- (1) In trading in products that are financial instruments under Sect. 2 paragraph 4 WpHG, the Exchange Participants shall be obliged to safeguard an adequate ratio between their entries of orders, changes and cancellations thereof and the actually executed transactions (Order-Transaction-Ratio), to avoid any risk for proper Exchange trading. Thereby, the Order-Transaction-Ratio is to be determined for each financial instrument by means of the numerical volume of the respective orders and trades within one day. An adequate Order-Transaction-Ratio is particularly existent, if it is economically comprehensible due to liquidity of the product concerned, the actual market situation or the function of the acting Exchange Participant.
- (2) The Management Board of the Exchange shall be entitled to define criteria to determine the adequate Order-Transaction-Ratio for the respective financial instrument or certain classes of financial instruments, whereat the Management Board of the Exchange considers the liquidity and volatility within the respective market including specific order book situations, the way entries to the order book are made (manually or electronically). Entries to the order book by the Exchange Participant or their Indirect Trading Participants, that also serve to fulfill quotation or other obligations to provide liquidity, may be exempted from the obligation stipulated in paragraph 1.

§ 47 Labelling of Orders Generated by Algorithms and of Trading Algorithms

- (1) Exchange Participants are required to label orders for products that are financial instruments under Sect. 2 paragraph 4 WpHG that are generated by them through algorithmic trading and to indicate the trading algorithms used to this end as well as the persons initiating such orders. This also applies if orders for products that are financial instruments under Sect. 2 paragraph 4 WpHG are forwarded through an order routing system or via a direct electronic access.
- (2) Marking of the orders generated and the indication of the respective trading algorithms used shall be effected via the input options provided to this end within the EEX trading system. The indication of the respective trading algorithms used must be comprehensible, clear and consistent. The entire automated decision-making path via which the orders are entered into the EEX trading system or amended or deleted have to be marked as the trading algorithm.
- (3) The Management Board of the Exchange can establish more detailed provisions on the structure and format of labelling and identification.

§ 48 Minimum Price Change

- (1) The minimum price change for each product is stipulated in the Contract Specifications.
- (2) The Management Board of the Exchange may temporarily determine the minimum price change exceeding the provisions in the Contract Specifications, if this determination is appropriate to reduce negative impacts to the market integrity and liquidity.

§ 49 Technical Malfunctions

- (1) Malfunctions which occur on the technical equipment that is required for participation in Exchange trading have to be reported to EEX without delay during the business hours by the affected Exchange Participants.
- (2) In the case of technical malfunctions, EEX shall be authorized to take any suitable and appropriate measures which are required to safeguard or resume proper trading or the proper settlement of exchange trades. For example, EEX can exclude individual Exchange Participants or all Exchange Participants from trading temporarily; they can suspend trading or delete orders by individual or all Exchange Participants. The measures taken by EEX shall be binding for all Exchange Participants. Further rules are contained in the Technical Implementation Regulations of EEX.
- (3) EEX provides unrestricted technical support only during business hours. Outside business hours the support only comprises measures for remedying technical malfunctions and for damage control. These measures concern in particular remedying of a technical malfunction, the deletion of orders by individual or all Exchange Participants, the cancellation of transactions, or the complete or partial suspension of trading.
- (4) EEX shall be authorized to commission third parties not belonging to the EEX group to support the Exchange Participants outside the business hours or for measures according to paragraph 2. However, the third parties commissioned to that end shall not be granted access to the trading data of the Exchange Participants or a right of inspection of such.
- (5) EEX, its operating company and companies of the EEX group assume no liability for damage resulting from a disruption of the operation as a result of force majeure, rebellion, acts of war, natural phenomena, or other events for which it is not responsible (e.g. strikes, lock-outs).
- (6) EEX, its operating company and companies of the EEX group only accept liability for damages resulting from the use of the EEX trading systems if and in as far as this results from gross negligence or actions of intent committed by its organs or vicarious agent. Over and above this, the EEX shall only be liable for the careful selection of the EDP systems used for trading.

§ 50 Central Counterparty; Clearing Member

- (1) To safeguard the proper execution of trades concluded or registered at EEX, the clearing of these trades is carried out through European Commodity Clearing AG as central counterparty (ECC or clearing house). The collateralization, financial and physical settlement of all trades concluded or registered at EEX (Clearing), will be carried out according to the ECC Clearing Conditions in their respective valid version and the conditions they refer to.
- (2) Clearing Members are entitled to restrict the trading possibilities of their Non-Clearing Members individually and without prejudice to their admission to EEX. The scope of technically supported restrictions depends on the technical requirements of the respective trading system and may consist in
 - (a) setting trading limits; or
 - (b) in the de- and reactivation of the tradability of individual products.

Further provisions thereto as well as on further technically supported restrictions of trading possibilities via other systems of EEX may be laid down in the Trading Conditions. The possibility of using the Emergency Member Stop pursuant to Article 27 shall remain unaffected.

The access to the systems of EEX required for this purpose will be granted by the Management Board of the Exchange upon request of the Clearing Member.

- (3) The Management Board of the Exchange may admit ECC AG upon application to trading on EEX as an Exchange Participant in connection with its activity as a central counterparty. ECC AG is limited to trading on its own behalf or on behalf of the Clearing Members and Non-Clearing Members connected to it in the framework of the default management process of ECC AG. Proof of the authorisation required to this end constitutes the precondition for trading on behalf of the Clearing Members or Non-Clearing Members.
- (4) The Management Board of the Exchange may regardless of the provision of Sect. 27 enter orders either for own behalf and own account of ECC or on behalf of and on account of the clearing members or non-clearing members of ECC or register trades to safeguard the proper execution of exchange trades.

§ 51 Exchange Hours and Trading Periods

The trading period for Spot transactions in the trading type of continuous trading comprises only the Execution Phase.

- (4) The Call Phase is followed by the Execution Phase during which transactions in the individual products can be concluded in a closed or open auction in accordance with the Trading Conditions. The execution of the auctions for individual products, shall be determined by the Management Board of the Exchange unless more detailed provisions regarding this are established in the Exchange Rules or the Trading Conditions.

§ 52 Trading types

- (1) Products of EEX Spot Markets will be traded in continuous trading or in auctions.
- (2) Unless deviating provisions are made in an individual case, the price at which the highest order volume can be executed with the minimum surplus is determined from the limited and unlimited orders which are received in the EEX system until a certain time in open or closed Auction; in as far as unlimited orders are permissible, these shall be given priority. An Open Auction is generally divided into the call phase and the price determination. During the call phase, Exchange Participants may enter, change or delete orders. If there are orders that could be executed against one another, in auctions with a closed Order Book, a potential execution price is displayed during the Call phase. If this is not the case, the best buy and/or sell limit is displayed. In auctions with an open Order Book, the cumulated order volumes of each of the buy and/or sell limits are also displayed. Neither a potential execution price nor order volumes are displayed in a closed auction.
- (3) Continuous Trading commences without an opening auction, closing auction, or – in intraday auctions. Prices are determined by matching orders at the best possible bid and ask limits indicated in the Order Book; in the event that prices are identical, orders and quotes are matched in the order in which they were entered into the EEX system (price-time priority); unlimited orders are executed first. All available orders shall be displayed in the order book cumulatively at the respective limits (trading system T7) or individually (Trayport® ETSSM) (Open Order book).
- (4) Details are stipulated in the Trading Conditions.
