MISSIONS & CONTENT OF THE JOB

Powernext provides energy-related services, including algorithmic trading softwares for balancing and market coupling services, auction platforms and registry solutions. Connecting 11 hubs across Europe, PEGAS is a key driver for the integration of the European internal energy market.

In this context, we are seeking for a Project Manager to support our next growth phase. His/Her missions will be the following ones:

- Leading feasibility studies: gathering and synthetizing users requirements, animating workshops with key experts, defining solutions with corresponding budget and planning estimations, and providing synthetic and structured reports for decision on the implementation.
- Managing projects and coordinating cross functional teams: defining project scope, goals and deliverables, leading the project breakdown into working tasks and deliverables together with the teams, monitoring progress and raising alerts when needed, acting as a facilitator and removing impediments, interacting with external partners and management as the project's point of contact.
- Take the lead on one or several key systems: acting as the central interface with internal teams, our providers and our clients, gathering requirements and suggesting evolutions, following and reporting on their implementation.
- Contributing to improve our internal processes: sharing experiences and ideas to help the continuous improvements of our ways of working together as a team and a company, accompanying the on-going Agile transformation.
